

NUMBER AND LETTER AMNESIA

SAMPLE SCRIPT

Another classic in the comedy stage hypnosis world. The idea that someone could forget such trivial details is mind-boggling to audience members (after all, these are their close/personal peers). Even if you only get one volunteer (let alone a stage full) to react to this, it's an easy & fun one to milk!

“When I wake them up, they will have amnesia. They may be able to see the answers to my questions in their mind but they won't be able to verbalize it. The moment I look them directly in the eyes, they'll have troubles verbalizing, maybe even fully remembering, how to answer my questions. The person I'm touching (tap a volunteer's shoulder) right now, you'll have amnesia and draw a completely blank screen in your mind, naturally forgetting the (insert number or letter here) when I ask you to (count/say the alphabet).”
